

Person-Centred Encounter Group 3-7 July 2019

Whether you're new to encounter or a seasoned veteran, our Person-Centred Encounter Group provides an excellent opportunity for personal growth and development.

Through meeting with others in an atmosphere of mutual acceptance, empathic understanding and genuineness encounter events provide an environment in which a person can come "to know himself and each of the others more completely than is possible in the usual social or working relationships." (Rogers, 1969, Encounter Groups, p16)

This experiential event offers a self-structured, self-facilitated space where learning relating to encounter can be gained. It offers the potential to develop a more person-centred way of being, through offering space to develop greater congruence and deeper understanding of both person-centred and encounter theory.

The event itself is held in the beautiful and accessible setting of Gregynog Hall. This historic location offers a tranquil space conducive to an atmosphere of sharing and self-exploration. All rooms are single-occupancy, and the event is fully catered.

Early booking is recommended as discounted rates, and monthly payments are available. The earlier you book, the lower the monthly rate.
